Welcome to RTV 3303 (Audio News Reporting). This skills development course will provide students with comprehensive instruction and hands-on training in news gathering, writing, audio editing, interviewing, and reporting. This class is a gateway to becoming a more proficient audio journalist. You'll discover foundational storytelling elements applicable to both broadcast and podcast. You'll learn everything from planning and writing to question development. You'll also learn how to plan and record interviews, edit audio, and enhance your vocal presentation. Special emphasis will be given to effective pitching, writing, and production. This course will train you to create meaningful, community-based stories that inform and educate. In addition to classroom learning, you'll gain valuable practical experience in the community and WUFT newsroom. You'll be expected to apply your skills in real-world scenarios, producing news content that serves our local community. Your stories will be broadcast locally – on WUFT 89.1 FM – and, in some cases, distributed across Florida. Think of this class as a chance to follow your curiosity, explore community issues, and expand your audio-based journalism skills.

Course Objectives and Goals

- 1. Writing for broadcast: You'll learn to write news stories that meet the standards required for on-air broadcasts/podcasts. You'll also develop your skills in writing and reporting for short newscast stories (sound stories) and more in-depth pieces (voicers, wraps, and super spots).
- 2. Field and Phone Audio Recording: You'll learn to record high-quality interviews in the field or over the phone. You'll also learn how to edit audio for broadcasts/podcasts using Audition and Descript.
- 3. Real-World Application: The work you'll produce is for broadcast. This deadline-driven work will be used on the radio and/or published digitally or as part of a podcast.
- 4. On-air Experience: You'll get presentation experience with the chance to voice some of your work for distribution throughout Central and North Florida.
- 5. Enhanced Reporting and Consumption: You'll develop better habits for consuming news, which will inform and improve your reporting and your ability to cultivate reliable sources.

=====

Required Equipment:

For your audio projects, you will be able to check out digital audio recorders. You will also be given an SD card. The newsroom has recorders for you to use during your shifts.

Software and Hardware needs:

- Students are expected to have a laptop and purchase Adobe Audition if needed (at a student discount) Link: <https://software.ufl.edu/adobe-offering>
- A dedicated Google account for this class (not a personal one). It is for sending and receiving emails, entering sources, accessing the newsroom email account, AP Playbook, and storing audio files.
- A cell phone with enough storage space to record audio and take photos.
- The free REV Call Recorder App. Florida is a two-party consent state, so you must get permission to record an interviewee's voice.

Course Evaluation:

Students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course. These evaluations are conducted online at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu>. Students will be given specific times when evaluations are open later in the semester. Summary results of these and previous assessments are available to students at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu/results>.

Zoom Professionalism:

There may be times when we will use Zoom during class sessions. You are expected to have your camera on during these times. Please maintain a professional appearance and conduct during our remote lecture meetings, including considering your wardrobe and visual backgrounds.

Our class sessions may be audio-visually recorded for students to refer back to and for enrolled students who cannot attend live. By participating, you consent to have your voice, video, or image recorded. If you do not consent to having your profile or video image recorded, please keep your camera off, mute your voice, and refrain from using a profile image. You can communicate with the class using the "chat" feature, which will not be recorded or shared. As in all courses, unauthorized recording and sharing of recorded materials are prohibited.

Late Work:

As the news industry operates on strict deadlines, managing time effectively is important. Late submissions won't be accepted without penalty unless prior arrangements have been made, accompanied by a doctor's note or a letter (preferably from the university or a university-sponsored group). While unexpected situations can arise, if you anticipate that your work may be delayed for any reason, please contact me before the due date to discuss alternative timelines. Unless extenuating circumstances exist, work submitted without prior arrangements may not be accepted.

Ethical Warning:

As a journalist, you must refrain from interviewing family members, friends, fellow fraternity or sorority members, coworkers, neighbors, or any other close associates. In journalism, we consider these relationships as potential conflicts of interest. These individuals can provide valuable tips, story ideas, or background information, but interviewing them for this class will likely result in an automatic assignment failure.

Academic Misconduct:

Academic honesty and integrity are core principles of the University of Florida community and are especially crucial when reporting true stories. Familiarize yourself with the Honor Code, available at <https://sccr.dso.ufl.edu/policies/student-honor-code-student-conduct-code/>

Any fabrication or cheating in assignments will result in a failing grade for this course. This includes copying and pasting content from other sources, claiming another reporter's work as your own, or inventing information. Understanding the serious consequences of academic misconduct beyond a failing grade is important, so please review the policy thoroughly.

You Matter:

Asking for help is a sign of strength. Your well-being is important to the University of Florida. The U Matter, We Care initiative is committed to creating a culture of care on campus by encouraging us to look out for one another and to reach out for help if a community member is in need. If you or someone you know is in distress, please contact umatter@ufl.edu, or call 352-392-1575 24/7. You can also visit them at their walk-in clinic on the 4th floor of Peabody Hall (located near Library West). The U Matter, We Care Team can also help connect students to various support resources. In case of emergency, call 9-1-1.

Accommodations:

Students with disabilities can request accommodations by registering with the Disability Resource Center (352-392-8565, <https://disability.ufl.edu/students/accommodations/>). Once registered, students will receive an accommodation letter, which must be presented to the instructor when requesting an accommodation. Students with disabilities should follow this procedure as early as possible in the semester.

Diversity Statement:

The University of Florida's College of Journalism and Communications, Department of Journalism, is dedicated to cultivating an intellectual community enriched by diversity across various dimensions, including race, ethnicity, national origin, gender, gender identity, sexuality, class, and religion. In our journalism courses, we aim to promote an understanding the diversity of peoples and cultures and the significant impact of mass communications in a global society.

This classroom, whether online or in person, is intended to be a safe space to freely share ideas and opinions without fear of judgment or ridicule. While constructive critique is encouraged during discussions, feedback should be constructive and must be respectful. I do not tolerate any form of disrespect or behavior that is divisive or hurtful to anyone in the class based on age, background, belief, ethnicity, gender, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, religious affiliation, sexual orientation, ability, or any other visible or non-visible differences.

If anything in class conflicts with the above principles, please notify me as soon as possible so we can address it together.

Assignments

Newsroom Work:

A large part of this class is the requirement to work in the WUFT newsroom. Throughout the semester, you'll work 6 hours per week over 15 weeks for 15 shifts. This is the bulk of where your overall grade is derived. Your work will be scored on pitching, writing, and producing. You must get someone to work for you if you cannot work your WUFT newsroom shift. More info on makeup shifts is at the end of the syllabus.

Final Exam:

The final will be given during Finals Week, outside of class time. You can take this final exam or work a final news shift in the newsroom during Finals Week. The final will be comprehensive and consist of 50 fill-in-the-blank questions covering skills, practice, and general info learned in class, the field, and the newsroom.

Source Building:

We will learn about our community throughout the semester. You may be asked to select a field of interest. You will learn how to find sources and build a source list for stories through a series of class assignments. This source list should be maintained throughout the term and turned in at the end of the semester. Through these assignments, you'll better understand the community and gain insight into becoming a better reporter.

Assignments/Quizzes:

You will be given a weekly quiz starting with week 2 of the course. These quizzes will also include questions that ensure you consume local, state, national, and international audio news. A steady consumption of the news will also help grow your writing skills.

Attendance and Make-ups

This is a deadline profession. Per the UF attendance policy, an absence is unexcused unless you provide the instructor notice in advance, with documentation after the fact. Regardless of why you miss class, you must inform the professor beforehand. In-class work missed for unexcused absences earns zero points and may not be made up. In-class work missed during an excused absence must be made up within seven days of the absence. Late-class arrivals and early departures are noted and may count against your Punctuality grade. Missing more than 30 minutes of a class session is an absence.

Shift Policy

Everyone in Audio News and Reporting must work one six-hour shift per week in the audio newsroom at the Innovation News Center (INC). If, for some reason, you can't make it to your scheduled shift, you must make it up – and notify Professor Dave. Here's what to do if you miss a class:

- Holidays: Excused.
- Sickness: You must have a doctor's note (see Late Work, above).
- School-sanctioned/class-related reasons: A note from your instructor, coach, or administrator.
- Planned events: Traveling for a wedding, vacation, or a football game is not a reason to miss a shift. Nor are panhellenic functions, doctor's appointments, or projects.
- Extreme circumstances: Addressed as/if needed.

Make-up Shifts

INC make-up shifts are only available for students who have an excused absence. These shifts typically occur outside of the normal Newsroom schedule. Throughout the semester, Professor Dave will notify students needing to make a shift. They'll likely be asked to cover an event or an opening (usually at night or on the weekend) that WUFT would like to cover. These assignments would be completed just like a regular shift.

Ensure you get approval from Professor Dave before conducting a make-up shift — “pitch before you produce” (pitch your idea before you head out to report) always.

A Few Important Notes

If you know you'll need to miss a shift for any planned reason, please inform Professor Dave in writing with plenty of notice.

Remember, however, that these are not excused absences, nor is a busy schedule.

However, you can switch shifts with a classmate if both shifts are covered and Professor Dave is informed.
