Course Overview

You have enrolled in JOU4940 to seek academic credit for your internship. In addition to completing the work for your internship, you must complete the assignments in this class, receive a positive evaluation from your internship supervisor at the end of the semester, and work a specific number of hours at your internship to receive academic credit for your internship.

Course Format & Instructional Methods

This course is delivered online in an asynchronous format. In other words, we have no scheduled meeting time. All assignments and their due dates are available to you at the start of the semester.

The course will be managed through the eLearning platform Canvas. You can access the course by logging into eLearning at <http://elearning.ufl.edu>.

Required Texts

- No texts are required to complete the assignments in JOU4940.

Weighted Grading Groups

- Four (4) Timesheet Submissions (20 points possible): 5%
- Four (4) Discussion Posts (100 points possible): 45%
- Five (5) Assignments (125 points possible): 50%

Journalism Internship (JOU4940) | Spring 2025 Syllabus

Course Description and Expectations

You have opted to receive academic credit for your internship; therefore, you will need to demonstrate what you have learned through your internship. To demonstrate your learning, you are required to complete four discussion posts and four reflection papers.

I encourage you to keep a weekly journal of highs, lows, activities, and accomplishments each week of your internship. Such journal entries will help you when it comes time to write each reflection paper and discussion post. When allowed by your employer, you should keep copies of projects you work on and/or content that you produce during your internship for the Portfolio Sample assignment.

You are expected to work 60 hours at your internship for every academic credit you seek; 60 hours for one credit, 120 hours for two credits, and 180 hours for three credits. If you are concerned that you may not meet this requirement, please let me know as soon as possible. It is a good idea to keep track of the hours you work each week in case your supervisor reports you worked fewer than the required hours. I have provided a timesheet for you to track your hours, which you will submit periodically throughout the semester. Your supervisor should sign off on your hours.

Whether you receive a "satisfactory" or "unsatisfactory" mark in this course depends on whether you complete the coursework, how many hours you log at your internship, and how you perform at your internship. Your internship supervisor will evaluate your performance at the end of the semester when they complete the UF Department of Journalism Intern Evaluation Form.

If your supervisor does not complete the UF Department of Journalism Intern Evaluation Form when requested, you will receive an Incomplete (I*) for your internship. A grade change will be issued once your supervisor completes the survey.

When you log into the course on Canvas, please complete the Supervisor Contact Information assignment as soon as possible. I will use this information to contact your supervisor regarding your performance and adjust the due dates for your assignments if your internship starts later in the semester.

When you access the course on Canvas, you will see all assignments, discussion posts, etc., you have been asked to complete this semester. All due dates are posted.

If you have questions about these assignments, please reach out to me.

Problems with Your Internship?

If for any reason you are uncomfortable during your internship, please notify me or the chair of the Journalism Department. If you feel that the employer is violating the guidelines of the internship, or if there is something in the workplace that makes you uncomfortable, such as the behavior of your supervisor or a coworker we need to know. Please don't feel you need proof of wrongdoing before speaking with me or the department chair.

Diversity Statement

The University of Florida's College of Journalism and Communications Department of Journalism embraces a commitment toward an intellectual community enriched and enhanced by diversity along a number of dimensions, including race, ethnicity and national origins, gender and gender identity, sexuality, class and religion.

I consider this class to be a place where you will be treated with respect. I welcome individuals of all ages, backgrounds, beliefs, ethnicities, genders, gender identities, gender expressions, national origins, religious affiliations, sexual orientations, ability – and other visible and nonvisible differences. All members of this class are expected to contribute to a respectful, welcoming, and inclusive environment for every other member of the class.

POLICIES

Contact Policy

The best way to contact me is through the Canvas email system. Monday through Thursday, I usually respond to emails within 48 hours. If you send an email to me on Friday or over the weekend, you may not receive a response until Monday.

Keep emails brief and focused. Include relevant details and information. For example, if you are requesting a deadline extension, what is the name of the assignment? How many extra days do you need to complete the assignment? What is the reason for the extension request? (Illness, family emergency, etc.). Include in the subject line of the email words that indicate what the email is about.

Office Hours. Drop-in hours are Tuesdays from 2 to 4 p.m. Eastern. If another student is in the Zoom meeting room, you will be placed in the waiting room and admitted once that student leaves. Contact me by email to schedule a meeting for a different time or date.

Office Location. Meetings are held via Zoom. Meeting Room: <https://ufl.zoom.us/j/5340690596>

Deadline Policy

You are expected to submit all assignments on time through Canvas. Deadlines are given in Eastern Standard Time. However, if you do not reside in the Eastern Standard Time zone, you can adjust the time zone to stay on top of dates and deadlines. See this guide.

Late assignments are usually only accepted in cases of documented emergencies, family emergencies, illness, and documented technical issues. All other requests to submit an assignment late are considered case-by-case. You MUST email me either before an assignment is due or no more than 24 hours after an assignment is due if you wish for more time to complete the assignment.

Journalism Internship (JOU4940) | Spring 2025 Syllabus

Any request to make up an assignment due to technical issues MUST be accompanied by the ticket number received from UF's e-learning Support Services or UF's Computing Help Desk when the problem was reported to them. The ticket number will document the time and date of the problem.

Assignments that I have approved for late submission will be assigned a new due date. You must complete the assignment by the new due date. If you do not complete the assignment by the new due date, you will receive a zero on the assignment.

You are responsible for checking to see whether your work has been submitted to Canvas. After you submit your work, information about your submission will appear. "I thought I had submitted the assignment," is not an acceptable excuse for missing a deadline. You will receive a zero if you submit the wrong assignment, an illegible document, or a document in the wrong file format and don't fix the issue before the deadline.

Submitting Work, Receiving Feedback, and Discussing Grade Policy

You will submit your assignments through Canvas. Depending on the assignment, you will see feedback in one or more of the following ways:

- An assignment comment.
- A completed rubric.
- Free-form comments within a rubric.

Read "How do I view assignment comments from my instructor? \(Canvas\)" for assistance with viewing feedback.

Grading Policy

In addition to meeting the required number of hours at your internship, and your supervisor's evaluation of your performance, your grade in the course is also based on completing several activities throughout the semester.

Instructions will accompany each assignment and discussion board you need to complete. A rubric will be provided for most of the assignments; use the rubric as a checklist as you complete the assignment. Please ask questions if you need clarification on the assignment or how your work will be graded.

In this course, the final grade will either be an S "Satisfactory," U "Unsatisfactory," and on rare occasions an I* or I "Incomplete." Review UF's Grades and Grading Policies for an explanation of grade points.

If you have specific questions or concerns about a grade on an assignment, you must email me within a week of the assignment being returned to discuss the grade.

Notification Policy

Journalism Internship (JOU4940) | Spring 2025 Syllabus

I will communicate with the class and with you individually as needed. It is important that you log into Canvas daily to check for new announcements, check the Canvas Inbox, and review comments I've left on your assignments. You may set up alerts to forward messages directly to your UF email address. To adjust your notification settings in Canvas, follow these guidelines.

Plagiarism & Academic Dishonesty Policy

Plagiarism and cheating will not be tolerated. Any attempt to represent the work, ideas, or writing of someone else as your own is considered plagiarism and will result in failure of the assignment. This includes using writing generated by AI Systems such as ChatGPT. Willful and blatant incidents of plagiarism will be reported to your department chair AND the university's Dean of Students.

If you have any questions regarding this policy, ask me! "But I didn't know..." is not an excuse.

Course Technology Policy

You will need reliable Internet access and a reliable computer with Microsoft Word (or other word-processing software that can generate a .doc or .docx file) to write your reflection papers.

Netiquette: Communication Courtesy Policy

All members of the class are expected to follow rules of common courtesy in all email messages and threaded discussions. This includes corresponding with your classmates and me.

University Policy on Accommodating Students with Disabilities

If you are requesting accommodation for disabilities, you must first register with the Disability Resource Center. The DRC will provide documentation to you which you must then provide to me when requesting accommodation. You must submit this documentation before submitting assignments. Accommodations are not retroactive; therefore, you should contact the office as soon as possible in the term for which you are seeking accommodations.

GETTING HELP

For issues with technical difficulties with eLearning in Canvas, please contact the UF Computing Help Desk and E-learning Support Services at: Email: helpdesk@ufl.edu (or) learning-support@ufl.edu; Phone: (352) 392-HELP (4357). Remember to get a ticket number if your technical problem is the reason you are requesting an extension on an assignment.

Consult the Canvas Student Guide on how to navigate and use Canvas as a student.
