Professor: Ajia I. Meux, PhD, MSW

Email: ajiameux@ufl.edu

Course Meetings: Asynchronous on Zoom

Office Hours: Available by appointment

Land Acknowledgement

I acknowledge that for thousands of years the area now comprising the state of Florida has been, and continues to be, home to many Native Nations. I also recognize that the main campus of the University of Florida is located on the ancestral territory of the Potano and the Seminole peoples. The Potano, of Timucua affiliation, lived here in the Alachua region from before European arrival until the destruction of their towns in the early 1700s. The Seminole, also known as the Alachua Seminole, established towns here shortly after but were forced from the land as a result of a series of wars with the United States known as the Seminole Wars. I acknowledge our shared obligation to honor the past, present, and future Native residents and cultures of Florida.

Course Description

Diverse Voices is a one-credit course that assesses the vital role of diversity, equity and inclusion (DEI) in public relations. Public relations professionals play a key role in telling stories that shape the perceptions of stakeholder groups. In this course you will gain insight and direction on ways to help create and support a diverse, equitable and inclusive work environment. We will explore the ways in which emotional intelligence and cultural competency impact your ability to make decisions that reflect the core principles of DEI. Understanding the journeys of the leaders of color who have changed the face of leadership in public relations will help outline the obstacles to and benefits of DEI in the field.

Course Format

The format for this course is asynchronous – meaning you are able to complete work at your own pace. Participation in online discussions, group work and timely assignment completion are keys to succeeding in this class. You are responsible for notifying me in advance if you are unable to complete an assignment due to illness and should be prepared to provide a note from your medical provider. For further information on attendance policy, please go here.

Required Material

There is no textbook for this course. All required readings, podcasts, and videos/movies are listed on the syllabus and will be available on Canvas. Additional readings and assignments may be added at my discretion over the course of the semester.

College of Journalism and Communications Objectives

The Accrediting Council on Education in Journalism and Mass Communications requires that by graduation all students should be able to:

- apply the principles and laws of freedom of speech and press, in a global context, and for the country in which the institution that invites ACEJMC is located;
- demonstrate an understanding of the multicultural history and role of professionals and institutions in shaping communications;
- demonstrate culturally proficient communication that empowers those traditionally disenfranchised in society, especially as grounded in race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation and ability, domestically and globally, across communication and media contexts;

- apply tools and technologies appropriate for the communications professions in which they work

GRADING AND ASSIGNMENTS

The evaluation of coursework will be based on your performance in three major assignments, each of which constitutes a proportion of the final grade. Your grade will be calculated by the following:

Discussion Posts: 30%

Each week, a discussion question will be posted to Canvas which will cover either the readings or a contemporary event. Your response should be a critical reflection of the readings you have had for the week. You will only be graded for your contribution, but you are more than welcome to comment on and engage with others' post.

Team Case Study: 40%

Teams will work together to identify and assess the DEI initiatives and practices of two different companies. Groups will complete a SWOT analysis that will focus on the internal and external DEI practices and initiatives and prepare a presentation to the class on how companies are creating a diverse, equitable and inclusive culture, as well as the opportunities that exist to better address DEI. Companies and groups will be assigned.

Groups should present the company's DEI initiatives and conduct a SWOT analysis. Please follow the following outline:

- 1) An overview of the company
- 2) Company's DEI leadership
- 3) Company's DEI policies

- 4) At least two of the company's DEI program examples
- 5) Recent trends and/or articles in DEI related to the company
- 6) SWOT

Here's a great resource on how to conduct a SWOT analysis: <https://ctb.ku.edu/en/table-of-contents/assessment/assessing-community-needs-and-resources/swot-analysis/main>

NOTE: All elements of the SWOT should be related to DEI(JBA).

Presentation

Teams should prepare a 15-slide minimum presentation. The presentation should be recorded live or include voice overs. Be creative – show videos, images, articles or other visual depictions to enhance your presentation. Note: Your presentation should not be more than 20 minutes in length.

Team Participation

This is a group project; therefore, each team will have to meet for each member to contribute to the assignment equally. It is important that the information presented be cohesive and representative of team collaboration.

Case Study Discussion 15%

In response to teams' case study, you will prepare a critical reflection and/or important questions to consider (200+ words) and post it on the discussion board. You will be graded on how thoughtfully you participate and contribute to the discussions. NOTE: This is an individual reflection, not a team reflection!

LinkedIn Post: 15%

In week 16, you must make one LinkedIn post reflecting on what you learned this semester. The post must include a learning from one of the companies you assessed and at least one link to a relevant article. To receive full credit, it must include the hashtag #DiverseVoices and a tag of the professor, Ajia Meux, and any people being quoted or referenced, where possible.

NOTE: If, for whatever reason, you do not feel comfortable posting publicly about your experience in this class, let me know and we can make alternate arrangements.

Requirements for assignments and other work in this course follow UF policies:
<https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx>

Late or Missed Work:

Deadlines for each assignment will be given and students are expected to meet them. Late assignments will automatically lose half a point per day it is late. Some consideration, however, might be given (at the discretion of the instructor) if there are extenuating circumstances such as prolonged hospitalization, family death, or extended individual sickness; however, you need to notify me before the deadline is missed, not after the fact.

The grading scale for the course is:

- A 92-100%
- A- 90-91.99%
- B+ 88-89.99%

B 82-87.99.99%

Commitment to Diversity, Equity & Inclusion

I'm committed to creating an environment of inclusion that respects and affirms the fundamental dignity, value, and distinctiveness of all individuals and their perspectives. My teaching will reflect the understanding of the complexity of identity and the mutuality of our global community. It is my responsibility to help promote and maintain a community of compassion, embracing the rich depths of diversity, while facilitating opportunities for equity and inclusion.

Students with disabilities requesting accommodations should first register with the Disability Resource Center (352-392-8565, dso.ufl.edu/drc) by providing appropriate documentation. Once registered, students will receive an accommodation letter which must be presented to the instructor when requesting accommodation. Students with disabilities should follow this procedure as early as possible in the semester.

A Note on Recording

Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor. A “class lecture” is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session. Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To “publish” means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF

Regulation 4.040 Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.
